Dear customer,

RE: PG BISON'S 6th MELAMINE PRESS COMES ONLINE

The 21st of August 2019 marked another great achievement with the successful installation and commissioning of PG Bison's 6th melamine faced board (MFB) press. "This is a first of its kind robotic line and was engineered by PG Bison's own highly competent inhouse project team," says CEO Gerhard Victor.

In the six months since the project was announced, our project team were able to unpack the MFB press from its storage in Boksburg, completely refurbish and update it with the latest technology and ship it to Piet Retief for installation and commissioning. Manufacturing Executive, Brand Engelbrecht is thrilled with the project team's performance, commending their completion of the project earlier than planned and within budget.

The additional capacity will help bring even more flexibility to PG Bison's product offering and ensure that service levels are maintained in the peak trading periods. And it will support our exciting new range developments for which we are already busy preparing.

PG Bison's Gallery Three Road Show will get under way in March 2020 and will ensure that PG Bison continues to set the trends on the African continent. We will keep you posted on our new products' launch a little closer to the time.

Thank you for your continued support, without which this additional capacity would not be possible.

Kind regards

JUSTIN BERRY
Executive: Sales and Marketing
